

2017-02-22 | Pressemeldung | International | Biotreibstoffe

Drop-in biofuels for marine and aviation markets

Presentations now available

A workshop was held in conjunction with ExCo78 in Rotorua, New Zealand on the 9th November 2016. With approximately 60 participants, the theme of the workshop was Drop-in biofuels for international marine and aviation markets. Fifteen invited speakers gave presentations (including three through videoconference) in three sessions followed by a panel discussions as follows:

- Setting the scene and organising supply chains
- Perspectives for marine biofuels
- Perspectives for aviation biofuels
- Panel discussion on policy options and recommendations to support biofuels in international marine and aviation markets

The workshop concluded with a summary and conclusions session

Source: IEA Bioenergy

Download Presentations:

<http://www.ieabioenergy.com/publications/ws21-drop-in-biofuels-for-international-marine-and-aviation-markets/>