

2017-02-22 | Pressemeldung | International | Biotreibstoffe

Drop-in biofuels for marine and aviation markets

Presentations now available

A workshop was held in conjunction with ExCo78 in Rotorua, New Zealand on the 9th November 2016. With approximately 60 participants, the theme of the workshop was Drop-in biofuels for international marine and aviation markets. Fifteen invited speakers gave presentations (including three through videoconference) in three sessions followed by a panel discussions as follows:

Setting the scene and organising supply chains

Perspectives for marine biofuels

Perspectives for aviation biofuels

Panel discussion on policy options and recommendations to support biofuels in international marine and aviation markets

The workshop concluded with a summary and conclusions session

Source: IEA Bioenergy

Download Presentations:

<http://www.ieabioenergy.com/publications/ws21-drop-in-biofuels-for-international-marine-and-aviation-markets/>