

2014-10-15 | Pressemeldung | EU | Algen

1st EABA and EC Algae Contractors' Conference and 8th International Algae Congress Florence, Italy 1-3 Dec. 2014

The European Algae Biomass Association and the Directorates General for Energy and Research & Innovation of the European Commission in collaboration with DLG are organising the 1st EABA and EC Algae Contractors' Conference, and the 8th International Algae Congress in Florence.

The objective of the joint Conference is to discuss with all key EU algae stakeholders the progress achieved over the past 7 years since the inception of the 7th Framework Programme and to deliberate on the present status of Algal Biofuels and Products in an effort to benchmark the technological advances in view of deployment of algal biorefineries, commercialising algal biofuels and products and looking ahead to the Horizon 2020 Programme.

Programme and registration: <http://www.algaecongress.com/>